False Pretense

Clioh Starr

Imagine driving, tears blurring the road, as you unleash your anger at the one who broke you. This track speaks the words you can't, a raw soundtrack for leaving them in your dust. Its authentic vulnerability and powerful delivery will deeply resonate with listeners. This contemporary pop breakup anthem captures a universal human experience, with its complexity beyond a "you hurt me" narrative, raw emotion and driving beat, it's the perfect soundtrack for that feeling of bittersweet longing. Clioh's phenomenal skills shine by the mere fact that she writes, records, produces, arranges, mixes, and publishes all of her creations on her own. The only outsourcing is for the final touch of mastering her tracks. This is uncompromised Clioh. Authenticity has a new sound. Powerful, raw, and unapologetically real. This is for the ones who are done with the act. 'False Pretense' by Clioh Starr!
